1910 TAX LEVY IS 135,568.05

BUDGET PASSED BY COMMON COUNCIL LAST NIGHT.

CALKINS WALK WRANGLE

Enlivened the Latter Portion of Proceedings—Bridge Questions to be Taken Up At Adjourned Meeting.

At the instance of the finance committee, the common council last evening passed a resolution providing that the sum of $135,568.05 be raised by taxation for municipal purposes for the year 1910. This is $14,651.33 less than last year's budget of $150,219.38. The school, fire and water, and other funds are practically allowed the full amounts asked for by the heads of the various departments. Apportionment among several funds is as follows:

Bonded Debt	$18,870.00
Schools	49,000.00
General Fund	14,000.00
Fire and Water	19,000.00
Lighting	15,000.00
Bridge	4,000.00
Judgment	123.05
Library	5,000.00
Miscellaneous	75.00
First Ward	5,000.00
Second Ward	3,000.00
Third Ward	5,000.00
Fourth Ward	3,000.00
Fifth Ward	3,500.00

Total $135,568.05

Other Matters of Finance.

Mayor Carle's appointment of Edward Hallen as special officer to safeguard the city's street roller and other property from small boys in the vicinity of St. Charles, 8, Second, and Third streets from Sept. 20 to Sept. 25 was confirmed and the clerk was directed to draw on the treasurer in the sum of $10 payable to Mr. Hallen from the general fund. Orders to the amount of $18.88 payable to C. E. Snyder for work on the curb and gutters on Washington, N. Bluff, and Madison streets and $50 payable to E. C. Burpee, attorney for the Rock County Telephone Co., for service in the treasurer's office and the three fire stations (Feb. 1 to July 1, 1910) were also authorized. The report on bills was adopted and a resolution was passed directing the issue of five special street improvement bonds in the denomination of $25 to cover improvement work on Washington street for which property holders had not elected to pay at once.

Departmental Reports.

Reports from several of the city departments were received and placed on file.

The municipal court had during the month of September collected fines, costs, and penalties amounting to $178.68.

Orders totaling $6,162.08 had been drawn by the board of education. Health Officer J. H. Richards returned the following statistics for the last quarter: Births, 115; deaths, 76; marriages, 18; accidents, 53; scarlet fever, 24 cases; diphtheria, 4 cases. The city is free from contagious disease at the present time.

Chief of Police Appleby's report chronicled 166 arrests during the month of September. The classification was as follows: Breaking into cars, 3; fighting, 2; inmates of houses of ill fame, 11; abusing animals, 1; burglary, 2; suspects, 4; hogging, 1; larceny from the person, 1; drunk animals, 80; bootlegging for Michigan, 1. Fifty-five were taken to court and fifty-one discharged. Arrests were credited as follows: Appleby, 28; J. Brown, 8; Manning, 14; Morrissey, 20; Champion, 9; Sam Brown, 10; Dorn, 6; Hallen, 10; Palmer, 1; Dalton, 1.

Supt. Dulin of the stone crushing plant reported the following deliveries for the two weeks ending Oct. 1: 37 yards to Gind, Graham & Co. for South Second street; 541 yards to the same firm for South Main street; 247 yards to A. E. Rutledge for Wisconsin street.

City Engineer Korch's report showing a change of grade on Jackson street and Milwaukee avenue intersections was adopted.

Ordinance Against Nomads.

Charles D. Conrad's complaint against the Gypsies who have been using the board fence of Athletic Park for a brownout was read and Alderman Hall introduced an ordinance to prohibit these nomads from camping, pitching tents, staying, stopping, or congregating within the limits of any highway, street lane, or alley in the city of Janesville under a penalty of from $10 to $100. It developed during the discussion that there was a state law covering practically the same thing and that it was a common practice throughout the commonwealth to keep these people on the move. Alderman Brown was inclined to view the Athletic park regulations as beyond remedy. If there was a policeman at every hotel, he opined, it would be very difficult to prevent these people from carrying the timber away. A motion to suspend the rules and give the measure its third reading and place it on two days was lost for want of a two-thirds majority vote. Alderman Brown (Buchholz, Rehfeld and Sheridan dissenting). So the ordinance will come up for final action at some future meeting.

A Promise Unfulfilled.

Ald. Buchholz called the attention of his colleagues to the fact that some time ago he had requested the city attorney to take steps to compel Wilson Lane to live up to the agreement he had made with the city to cover a frame barn with fireproof material and asked if anything had been accomplished. City Attorney Maxfield replied that he had seen Mr. Lane but that thus far he had effected nothing but promises. There had seemingly been some difficulty about getting the material in Chicago. Ald. Buchholz thought that a halt should be called on the practice of getting special permits to put up frame buildings under fire-proofing agreements with the city and then ignoring the agreements. City Attorney Maxfield stated that he would proceed promptly against Mr. Lane and report at the next meeting.

On Motion of Chairman Sheridan of the committee on highways the statements and schedules for the improvement

ments on Washington street which property owners had not elected to pay at this time were adopted and filed; and likewise the notices of those who had elected to pay.

The street commissioner was directed by orders to clean the gutters in the Second ward and repair the streets where the curbing has recently been put in; clean the gutters in the First Ward and those on Riverside street, from South Chatham to Race street in the Fifth ward.

That official is also to serve notices on the owner of lot 13, excepting the west 20 feet, block 2, Forest Park addition to build a standard walk in front of the said property on Forest Park boulevard; and on the owners of the north 54 feet of lot 95 and the south 6 feet of lot 96 in Pence's Second Addition to move or replace the present sidewalk upon the established line and grade on Monroe street.

Drick crosswalks are to be built at the following points: across Olive St. on the west side of River; North Madison St. on the north side of Mineral Point avenue; North Terrace St. at the intersection of the park walk; Mineral Point avenue on the west side of N. Pearl; N. Pearl on the north side of Mineral Point avenue; Jackson street on the south side of West Bluff; Rayne street on the east side of N. Terrace street; Hickory street on the south side of Olive street; S. Bluff street on the north side of S. Third; Court street on the west side of St. Charles; Bluff street on the north side of Clark street.

The Calkins Sidewalk.

Alderman Dulin, towards the end of the session, called attention to the fact that somebody was tampering with the sidewalk which the common council had weeks ago ordered constructed in front of the property of E. M. Calkins and Miss Matella C. Calkins on Pleasant street. He inquired to know the meaning of all this dodging and demanded an explanation of the Mayor, who, according to report had told the contractor that the notice served by the street commissioner was not legal form. The Mayor said he had nothing to do with the matter, though in his opinion the notice simply signed "Proctor" was not in correct form. City Attorney Maxfield was inclined to think it would be binding. Turning to the gallery Ald. Dulin exclaimed: "You hear, Mr. Hill—that order of D. K. Mr. Korch, I say to you that you'd better put those notices in the order directing you to give the grade was passed several weeks ago!"

It appeared, however, that the Calkins had served a notice on the contractor, warning him that none of the council proceedings with reference thereto had been in proper form or according to law and forbidding him to build the walk. Ald. Buchholz urged that the city attorney look the matter up and see if any technically had been overlooked, reporting on the same one week thence.

Ald. Dulin: "A week from tonight you'd do. Tomorrow is time enough!" City Attorney: "We're going to have the fifth ward in court for several days commencing tomorrow."

Ald. Dulin: "You ought to be able to find out in five minutes if there has been anything illegal."

City Attorney: "If you care to look over the records."

Ald. Dulin: "You're paid to do this—not I!"

City Attorney: "Not by YOU! Not by YOU!"

Mayor Carle, (rapping with the gavel) "Order!"

The Bridge Questions.

The proposition of what can and what cannot lawfully be done by the council with reference to the much-talked-of new bridge at Fourth and Race streets has become a knotty problem and on recommendation of Mayor Carle the council decided to hold an adjourned meeting next Monday evening for the purpose of discussing the whole matter out. The Mayor stated that he had been advised that the council had not the right to issue bonds to build a new bridge at a new place but that if the voters so determined the money for such a project could be raised by a single tax levy. That the voters would so determine, of course, was hardly likely unless the bridge specified should be a pile structure. Whether or not the proposition of replacing the Fourth avenue bridge would have to be submitted to the voters, he was advised, would depend largely on the cost.

NO PROFIT IN DECEPTION

Advertiser Who Resorts to Falsehood In His Announcements Will Not Reap Permanent Benefit.

John Wanamaker, the merchant prince of Philadelphia and New York, has made the charge that the department store advertising in the great cities has fallen to a plane which borders on an attempt to obtain money by false pretenses. Mr. Wanamaker declared that the conventional advertising has developed a habit of untruth and exaggeration that has finally become so palpable that the public has lost faith and interest in the advertisements.

There are certain stores in the great cities which make it a practice to tell the exact truth in their advertisements. This is so well recognized in the community that an attractive announcement is certain to fill the department with customers while other merchants can but burl black type announcing "The most wonderful values ever offered to the people of America," and scarcely create a ripple of interest.

Why this kind of misrepresentation is kept up in the face of its apparent unproductiveness has been the subject of many a comment. It does not appear to be a great trade producer and only a percentage of those who go to the store in response to the bait purchase when they see the goods actually offered.

But it is noticeable that most of these superlative city advertisers have established "mail order" departments and are bending every effort to extend their business in this direction. The inference is that the great black faced type in the metropolitan Sunday newspapers are not written for the people of the metropolis. They may be called to the store as a horse is led to the trough but they can't be made to buy when they see the quality of the bargains, any more than the horse can be made to drink foul water.

But the cut-throat resident who orders by mail doesn't see the stuff until it arrives. He may send it back, to be sure, but express charges both ways are a safeguard to the advertiser against this and the buyer makes the best of a bad bargain. He resolves to buy from his home merchant in the future and a month or two later sends another order on the strength of another glittering advertisement.

The farmer has stopped buying gold bricks; eventually he and the resident of the smaller cities will refuse to send "mail orders," and will aid in getting better markets at home by giving their patronage exclusively to their home merchants. There is no profit for them in spending money on misleading advertisements which would only anger prospective customers. Deceptive advertising will die out only when it ceases to be profitable.

Preverbs of Various Countries.

The Greeks, wishing to cast doubt upon a man's probity, declared him to be "a sheep with a fox's tail," which answers to our "Wolf in sheep's clothing." "All's well that ends well" bears a strong likeness to the German "Ende gut, alles gut." There is a lengthy Oriental proverb, "Let a cur's tail be warned, pressed out straight and swathed with bandages; if released after twelve years it will nevertheless return to its natural shape." It is easy to trace the similarity to our "You cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear."

Preacher's Neat Rebuke.

Not long ago a London preacher indulged in a little bit of sarcasm over a small collection. And he did it very neatly in a preface to his sermon on the following Sunday. "Brethren," he said, "our collection last Sunday was a very small one. When I looked at the congregation I said to myself, where are the poor? But as I looked at the collection when we counted it, I exclaimed, Where are the rich?"

Origin of "Boom."

"Boom," as in the phrase, "rubber boom," is of American origin and appears to have originated in the west, somewhere about 1878. Its original reference was to rapid movement producing a roaring sound. When a "flim" of logs breaks up the logs are borne violently down stream, and are then said to be booming, so it seems probable that the expression originated in the lumber trade, and spread thence to all forms of business.

Similarity in Proverbs.

The well-known old proverb, "One swallow does not make a spring," is indigenous to England, Germany and Russia, but in the sunny South it takes the form, "One flower does not make a garden." In Italy we find "He who grasps all gets less;" in France, "He who embraces too much binds badly," and in Northern Europe, "Grasp all, lose all."

Windmill Country.

The great windmill country is Argentina. Plenty of water from 15 to 300 feet underground throughout the vast, level, unbroken plain, an extensive area as one-third of this the whole United States, but all like our prairie lands; and wind blowing across the even stretches all the year around. The grazing lands are dotted with windmills, and Argentina keeps on importing them, chiefly from Yankee land, at the rate of more than a thousand a month.

Newspaper Advertising the Best.

"Newspaper advertising is conceded by the great business enterprises in this country and Europe to be the best kind of advertising," remarked A. H. Delbold, of Wheeling, W. Va., to the Washington Post. "Nearly all the eminently successful business concerns owe a large measure of their success to the newspapers. This is due to the fact that they get more direct results than by any other method of advertising. It is also more satisfactory because advertisers are able to trace results from their advertisements in the newspapers where they cannot if they advertise only in other ways. It is impossible to estimate the amount of money spent in this country in newspaper advertising. I know of one concern that spends half a million dollars a year, and doubtless there are others which spend larger sums."

Not an Expense.

Advertising is not an expense—it is an investment, and a permanent asset. It is an investment which will pay, at all times and under all circumstances, a high rate of interest. Every dealer, every business man, in goods of every kind, should realize this fact. There is no investment that pays better than timely and judicious advertising.

ANNUAL DRY FARMING CONGRESS IS OPENED

Congressman Mondell Presides and Experts From All Over the World Are Among the Delegates.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 4.—With delegates representing five billion acres of dry farm land in America, Russia, Germany, France, British South Africa, Australia, Turkey, India, Italy, Brazil, Argentina and Algeria, together with governors of five northwestern states, three members of congress, representatives of six foreign nations, heads of federal and state departments, and many prominent agricultural experts present the fifth annual Dry Farming congress opened here last night. Everything points to a most interesting and instructive meeting.

In connection with the congress there is an exposition, where comprehensive displays are made of the products of the field, orchard and garden to demonstrate what has been accomplished in the so-called semi-arid and arid districts in all parts of the world. Prizes of a total value of $10,000 are offered in the various competitions, which are free and open to all dry farmers. The speakers' list includes the names of many prominent statesmen, scientists, and agriculturists.

Congressman F. W. Mondell of Wyoming, president of the organization, formally convened the congress in the Washington state armory last night, the delegates and visitors being welcomed by Governor Hay for the state, and Mayor Pratt for the city. There will be eight regular sessions, and in addition six meetings of the institute sections of North and South Dakota, Utah, Idaho, Montana and Washington. Dr. T. V. Cooke, state director of dry farming in Wyoming, will have charge of sessions for members tomorrow and Thursday mornings. The meetings are for delegates desiring specific information on dry farming problems, soil culture and seed breeding.

PLEADS FOR PRISON REFORMS.

Hungarian Professor Urges Professional Training for All Officials.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Quoting the statement of Havelock Ellis that "the prison officer of today is about as well fitted for the treatment of criminality as the hospital nurse of a century ago was fitted for the treatment of disease," Professor R. Vambery of Hungary, professor in the University of Budapest, pleaded before a large audience at the International Prison congress this afternoon for thorough professional training of prison officials, both in high places and in subordinate positions. Professor Vambery paid tribute to the remarkable personalities of many wardens and superintendents of American and European prisons, but maintained that on the solution of the far greater question of the training in general of prison officers depends the entire future of prison reform as well as of penal law. "It can no longer be passed over in silence."

NEITHER OFFICER MISS MARK.

Policeman and Constable Fall Dead in Each Other's Arms.

Corbin, Ky., Oct. 4.—With both of their revolvers emptied and each man's body literally riddled by bullets, Henry Lee, a constable, and James Williams, a private policeman, fell dead in each other's arms at the end of a shooting affray in this city.

The men met, and before either had spoken a word began firing. Neither man missed a shot.

Lee had shot and seriously wounded Williams' father and brother several weeks ago. Williams was formerly county sheriff and was widely known.

SHE HAD IDEAS

"Just what kind of a place do you think you'd like?" asked the man.

He was a good looking man, and he asked it with elaborate carelessness calculated to advertise to the world at large his fervid interests in knowing her preferences.

The girl looked untroubled. She had childlike eyes which added in her assumption of an innocence of any particular motive on her part.

"I know exactly," she said, enthusiastically. "I've always wanted a country place and have devoted so much thought to the subject that my ideas are clearly developed. Only I've never yet seen the place which exactly came up to my notions of what a nice, airy, comfortable spot away from town should be. I'm always making mental improvements. First, there are the peacocks."

"The what?" stammered the man.

"Peacocks," repeated the girl, distinctly. "You always have to have them trailing around over the lawns and terraces, you know. They look so well in pictures of the place and in background when you have afternoon tea under the trees. Only I never in my life saw a peacock that lived up to its reputation as a decorative adjunct."

"Peacocks," the girl went on, "are always awkward, moth-eaten birds with cold and distant glances, and they occasionally squawk as they stroll around hunting for their supper. Now, the only excuse a peacock has for breathing is the feathers and apparently the only time you can see those is after you have slain the bird and spread its tail adornments out across the wall and nailed them there."

My plan is to take the peacock while alive, spread out its tail feathers into a beautiful fan shape and wire them in position. Then turn the bird loose upon the lawn, where it will remain a permanently beautiful decoration. I shouldn't think it would make any difference to the peacock, and think how much better it would look!"

"That's an original idea, all right," said the man. "What else would you suggest?"

"Squirrels always go with a country place," declared the girl, reflectively. "Only they are so elusive. You can watch hours for them and not see them, and it's a waste of time and gets on your nerves. I think I'd chloroform a dozen squirrels and have them stuffed. Then I'd attach them to wires wound spirally around the tree trunks with a sort of clockwork arrangement connected and when you pressed a button on the front porch—the squirrels would begin racing around the tree trunks up into the branches and down again. I'd have one or two on the top of the fence, too, and visitors from town could have fun over the dear little things whenever the conversation grew dull."

"Come to think of it, I'd have lots of things managed by pressing buttons on the front porch, which really is the most comfortable way of doing things. Opening gates and mowing lawns and setting the sprinkler going—by the way, that's another thing. I'd have all the flower beds and borders arranged with these elevated pipes full of holes and when you pressed the buttons they would shower water systematically and flood the plants."

"The idea is new," said the man.

"Thank you," said the girl. "Then when you come to the gates and the mosquitoes, I've got them nailed to the mast. People are so foolishly crying all these new-fangled exterminators and preventives and fussing and worrying and wondering how on earth the things got through the screens. It's their nature to go through screens, so why not provide a playground for them? I'd set up a row of porch screens just outside the front fence and put a row of lamps back of them. Then the buzzing pests would say, 'Ah! Here is where we show you what we think of screens!' and they would wiggle through and fall joyously upon the lamps and slug and buzz and have a perfectly beautiful time thinking they were making you miserable, when in reality you are sitting up peacefully on your veranda with your reading lamp perusing the last magazine. Both the mosquitoes and you would be happy and satisfied and everything would be lovely."

"As for keeping crows, which they say is absolutely impossible in the country, I'd have a deep pit dug with spikes around the top and after capturing a cock I would drop her down the pit with a full equipment of kitchen furniture and have her send the meals up by a dumbwaiter too fragile for her to ride upon. If she was at all tractable I'd let her out in the yard on Sunday—led to a hall and chain, of course, and under heavy guard. Oh, I can think of all sorts of things."

"I should think you could!" said the man. "Do you think you could be persuaded to consider an ordinary, humdrum, hot-and-cold-water-with-launder-service-and-garage-attached eight-room flat in town as a residence and abandon those—er—pipe dreams of yours?"

"Well," said the girl, after a proper amount of hesitation, "I'm amiable and easily persuaded. Tell me about it!"

Hard Task for Pianist.

Mrs. Newrich (who has advertised for a pianist)—So you are the music teacher that answered my advertisement?

Pianist—Yes, ma'am.

Mrs. Newrich—Well, sit down here and play a couple of duets so that I can see what you can do.

Most merchants who are Big Advertisers spend but 2% to 5% of the volume of their business for advertising. In Janesville but few merchants spend 2%, none spend 5%.

John A. Dix, who was nominated by the New York Democratic convention at Rochester for governor, is extensively interested in the manufacture of paper and is said to be a multimillionaire.

30 PERSONS ARE HURT IN L. E. & W. CRASH

Excursion Train Collides Head-On With Freight—Crew of Latter Blamed for Wreck.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 4.—More than thirty persons were injured when a passenger train carrying hundreds of excursionists on the Lake Erie & Western railroad crashed head-on into a freight train here. It is charged that the crew of the freight blundered in permitting their train to remain on the main track when the passenger train was due.

The most seriously injured are: J. A. Davis, Danville, Va.; hurled through door of the smoking car, receiving lacerations in the head, right arm and right side.

Noel Brooks, Grand Rapids; both feet crushed; internal injuries.

Claassen and Brooks were pinned between the tender and the baggage car, suffering torture until they were released an hour after the collision.

All the physicians of this city were rushed to the scene. The seriously injured were hurried to the hospital in automobiles.

HIS USE OF MONEY

"I wouldn't want all dat money at once!"

"Why not?"

"Cause I'm afraid $500 worth of ice cream would make me sick."

BUSY THEN

The Private Citizen—A general has an easy time after the war is over.

The General—Not for very long, though. You soon have applications for your autograph and invitations to banquets.

Tattooed by Lightning.

Herr Lehmann, a well-to-do farmer, was returning home to the village of Witten (Canton Thurgovia) the other day, when in a thunderstorm he was struck by lightning. His hat, collar, suit and boots were burnt on the left side, while on the right he was untouched. Lehmann was found senseless, but soon recovered, and is fairly well now. Curiously enough it was found that his left side had been beautifully tattooed by the lightning, the skin being entirely covered with "prints" of oak, chestnut and fir leaves.

In Stripes.

Ex-Senator Peffer took his little granddaughter to the menagerie and when she saw the zebra she asked: "Grandpa, has that horse been in the penitentiary?"

The great volume of advertising carried in these columns is due to the great circulation of The Gazette, 5300 copies receive The Gazette daily and from this large number of homes many people are looking for just the things advertised each day.

EPISCOPALIANS GATHER FOR GENERAL CONVENTION.

Music Hall, Cincinnati, in which the convention will be held. Upper left, Rev. Rudolph H. McKim, D. D., of Washington, D. C., president of the House of Deputies. At right, Rt. Rev. Daniel G. Tuttle, bishop of Missouri, who will preside over the House of Bishops.

Cincinnati, O.—The approaching general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church will be held this year at Cincinnati. The session, for more from missionary districts.

The House of Bishops will with closed doors. Efforts have been made in the past and doubtless will be made in the future to open the doors, but for some reason or other the bishops prefer to deliberate and act in private. The presiding bishop, the bishop of Missouri, is the titled head of the House of Bishops, but a chairman is elected and actually presides. The Bishop of Massachusetts has held the position for two terms, and under the rules is ineligible for further election. Who will be his successor is not known. The House of Deputies elects its president. That position has been twice held by the Rev. Randolph H. McKim, D. D., of Washington, and he will doubtless be chosen again.

Each diocese is entitled to send four clerical and four lay deputies. There are at present 65 dioceses in the United States.

NEW FALL SUITS AT $18.75, $22.50, $25.00, and $28.75

At these prices the assortments are most complete in severely plain or semi-tailored suits; fashioned after the smart new straight-line effects, with style touches that consign them to a class by themselves.

The care and study given to the designing of these lines has its reward in the enthusiasm of the buyers and the increasing number of well-dressed ladies who supply their wardrobes at these popular prices.

AT $25 you will find an incomparable offering in which practically every smart style and fashionable fabric is to be found—carefully selected patterns in novelty worsteds, two-toned tweeds, barathra and basket weaves with satin, taffeta and messaline linings.

Any $25.00 intent on investing itself in a charming tailored suit with the newest ideas in line and cut, will find this the assortment it is seeking. The season's correct designs in straight-line, banded skirts, and medium to short coats are here in the latest fall colorings, including the staple navy blue and black and the new browns.

FREIGHT RATES AND THE TARIFF.

For the past month the Interstate Commerce Commission has been listening to demands of the railroads for increased freight rates, and protests of the shippers against granting their demands. The railroads ask for an advance on ten per cent of their shipments, to add in meeting increased expenses, and to this the shippers strenuously object.

Just what this advance would mean on a certain line of goods is set forth by an exchange in a way which indicates that the shippers are "straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel." The paper says:

"On a hundredweight of clothes manufactured in New England and sent to Chicago the railroad freight would be seventy-five cents. A ready-made suit of men's clothes of the quality this represents weighs about four pounds or a little under. Twenty suits of clothes, therefore, are carried that considerable distance for 3.75 cents apiece. It is proposed to advance that rate from seventy-five cents to ninety cents. The advance works out at exactly three-quarters of a cent on each suit of clothes.

"Of course this is in addition to the cost of production, using that phrase in its widest sense. Such a sum is trifling in a single article, but becomes appreciable spread over the individual's entire year's expenditure, and is positively enormous when applied to all the articles of consumption of a population of ninety million people. Having said this, it must be admitted that, badly as the railroads banged their own case in the freight rate hearings, the pleas of the shippers were to a great extent distinguished by the most inconsiderable cant.

"From the attitude of their lawyers, it would be supposed that the shippers were pleading the case for the long suffering consumer against the soulless and extortionate railroad monopoly. There is not a 'yellow' newspaper or a leather-tipped demagogue in the country who has not taken this attitude. So far as the ultimate consumer is concerned, he only enters into the calculations of the shipper in regard to the extent to which he can be held up. As we have shown, the unconscionable railroads take 34 cents of the cost of his suit of clothes in Chicago. The tariff-protected woolen trust is enabled to take three hundred times that amount out of the consumer's pocket, by selling him something which he would not dream of accepting in that state of free competition which he demands for the railroads.

"Time was when the American manufacturer was willing to go into any market, confident that by his superior ingenuity and diligence he could hold his own and make a profit where any other man could. We have the tariff to thank for a condition entirely different. Our manufacturer thinks today not how he can beat his competitor with a better article, but how he can beat him with a worse one. It is impossible to sell a dishonest product except by dishonest means.

"The quality of our products has been appallingly deteriorated by the elimination of competition. The manufacturer's ingenuity and diligence now are turned away from his proper market, and only exercised in Washington, where the return is so much more attractive when business honor is once left out of the question.

"Let us have the freight rate matter settled justly and quickly, but we really ought to be spared this slyly sent about the sufferings of the oppressed shipper."

"The fact is generally recognized that the tariff, which has been the 'bone of contention,' is of vastly greater importance than the freight rates, and the belief is widespread that the best revision, instead of being downward, stimulated prices already too high on cotton and woolen goods.

"The notion is also popular that manufacturers working in harmony have reaped a rich harvest at the expense of the masses and prejudice is so strong that the fact is overlooked that the states which produce wool and cotton do not produce the manufactured goods.

"These states of the West and South want protection on those two principal products, but clamor for reduction on the long list of goods produced by the New England states, which all goes to show that the tariff is a many-sided as well as a local issue.

"The question will never be settled intelligently and right until a non-partisan commission outside of congress has time to investigate and offer a just and equitable solution. The problem is too large and complex to be solved offhand, however clamorous may be the demand.

RAILROADS IN JAPAN.

That enterprise is not lacking in Japan will be noticed by the following:

"The Municipal Council of Tokyo has passed a resolution in favor of constructing an elevated thoroughfare of Tokyo and the matter is now before the Prefecture of Tokyo, for final decision upon which depends the granting of the franchise.

"According to a Japanese, who is closely associated with the Tokyo traction interests, much opposition has been raised by business men and others located along the proposed route of the elevated lines, on the ground that the elevated line is not necessary and that if constructed, it would by its existence destroy in great measure the business of the street which bleeds the city. For this reason, the Prefecture may reject the plans submitted in project, so as to radiate from the center of the city, to its outskirts via 'side' streets.

"At the present time, Tokyo has 110 miles of street car track, over which are hauled daily about 500,000 people, at a fare per passenger of 5 sen, of which 1 sen goes to the government. All the street railways are operated by the Tokyo Railway Co. The company has an authorized capitalization of $30,000,000 of which $18,000,000 has been paid in. The company last year operated at a net profit of $1,500,000.

"The projected elevated line is 31 miles in length and will involve a cost of about $15,000,000. It will be built upon a series of brick arches that will carry the track level at a height of 22 feet. Several subway projects presented during the past two years have been rejected by the government board of railways, as too fantastic to merit consideration."

Mayor Gaynor considers the office of chief executive of Greater New York of more importance than the title of governor of the Empire state. In fact, he says it is next to the office of President. The city represents half the population of the state, has a bonded debt equal to the national debt, and demands the best executive ability. Mayor Gaynor appreciates the honor and proposes to serve out his term.

William Jennings Bryan will entertain the people down in "Uncle Joe" Cannon's district. This will tend to keep Mr. Bryan busy without injuring democracy. It will also furnish some amusement for Mr. Cannon. The Nebraska statesman is rapidly becoming a camp follower. He claims that Mr. Roosevelt has stolen his thunder, and the democracy of 1910 has but little use for him.

While the "Made in Janesville" week has passed to history, the good intentioned efforts will long remain to bless the community. The spirit of enterprise displayed and the disposition to pull together was everywhere apparent, and when these energies are crystallized they will prove a power for good. The cities which go to the front work as a unit and Janesville is in line for the forward march.

Taxpayers who are interested in good streets should visit the Third ward and inspect the work in progress and completed. They are by far away the best municipal streets ever built in the city. If this kind of intelligent work had been inaugurated twenty years ago the city would have value received for the mint of money wasted on street building.

Many good people throughout the state will regret that some method could not have been devised to capture Dietz, other than the one now being attempted. The shooting of his daughter may have been necessary, but it has aroused a good deal of sympathy and more or less indignation.

Hoke Smith spent $17,000 for the privilege of serving the state of Georgia two years as governor, on a $3,000 salary, while Governor Hughes of New York is said to be out $30,000 during his term of office. Political honor comes high, and no man can afford to aspire to high office.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

He was the worst boy in school. Not naturally depraved, not purposely bad, he was of nervous temperament and could no harm help his dignity ways than he could help the color of his eyes, which were honestly blue and mischievous.

He was frail because of lack of nourishment. In his short life he had gone days with just enough to eat to keep him from starving. In his dismal home short dinners were the rule rather than the exception.

The boy was also ill clad. He wore no underclothing, and winter was coming on. Patched knee trousers, thin stockings with holes in them, a ragged shirt and a worn-out jacket constituted all his clothing.

After repeated warnings the teacher had caught him in a flagrant violation of the rules. The little rebel was defiant. His code of battle was that of the street Arab—to give or take punishment and abide the issue.

The teacher took him to the hall for punishment. Used to the stings and arrows of outrageous fortune, the boy did not flinch nor cry nor beg. His philosophy of endurance under the inevitable was pathetic. It told a sad history of suffering beyond his years.

Something of this feeling crept into the teacher's mind, and suddenly a wave of pity for the poor child crept over her.

She looked at the frail body and the shivering garments. She thought of the bare life of the street and of the loveless home of the little fellow. She thought of the lad's starved soul.

Tears sprang to her eyes. "The boy was waiting with patient submission. And then he saw the tears in 'teacher's' eyes. It broke up the foundations of tenderness somewhere in his nature, and his own eyes grew moist. Two big tears slid down his pallid cheeks.

And then the teacher, still thinking of how the poor boy had never had a fair chance in life, in an impulse of tenderness put her arms around the child, and they cried together.

Well! Which, think you, was the better way for teacher and for boy—the rod or the tears, the law of steel or the law of the Nazareth?

I told with my hoe in the garden, and talkin' to me and me say: "Woe, woe, my dear old mother, but hark while we talk half a day. The evils confronting this nation will swamp us unless we reform, and stand up for true conversation." Then I got impatient and warm. I turn to my hoe and raked, and soon have the cockle-burrs thinned; for labor will bring a man bacon, but argument's nothing but wind. I tell at the sawbuck all morning, and spellin' words come to my door, with many a message of warning, and slanders and pibrochs galore. They say the outlaws are in danger, "their vote," they declare to me, "stranger, may rescue this perishing land." They talk and they boom and their holler, they yawp till each larynx is strained; but labor means coal in the cellar, and argument's nothing but wind. I go to the village with butter, and eggs that my fat hens have laid; and statement come to me and mutter: "The outlook sure makes me afraid; I fear that the eagle is mounting! The star-spangled banner's in hoek! This country is in for a jolting unless people get to my talk!" I shake off the long-distance clockwork, who long with his jawbone hath shined; for labor means grub and tobecker, and argument's nothing but wind.

LABOR AND ARGUMENT

OUT OF HIS ELEMENT

It's just the kind of a night for a swim in the lake," said Kenneth to his sister. "What do you say to a little ride first? I can drop you off somewhere for a call and then pick you up on my way home from the beach."

"Just the thing," agreed his sister with alacrity. "Take me over to Mrs. Winship's, as I promised her that I'd drop in to see her guest, and this is the only chance I'll have."

Kenneth donned his bathing suit, added a few necessities, including trousers, sweater and tennis shoes, and then got into the automobile with his sister. After short drive through the park he stopped at the Winships.

"Now, you be ready when you hear the horn," he admonished her. "A wet bathing suit with a sweater over it isn't the most comfortable thing in the world, and don't let them ask me to go in. Say that I'm—well, anything—only don't let them see me."

"Just foot the horn three times," said his sister, "and I'll fly out before they have time to ask questions. You aren't exactly an Apollo after your evening swim, and it would really be a reflection on me if anybody should see you."

Time went quickly after Kenneth arrived at the beach. Therefore, he remained in the water so long that he was chilly when he drew on his sweater and trousers over the wet bathing suit. When he stopped his machine in front of Winship's house everything was dark.

He tooted the horn loudly three times and waited. After an interval he tooted the horn again three times and waited. Then he tried to decide whether he should go on home or get out and ring the bell. Finally, emboldened by the darkness of the house and impelled by brotherly duty, he ran up the steps and gave the bell a sharp ring.

After a moment he heard voices, and lights began to appear in the front part of the house. In another moment Mrs. Winship appeared at the door with Kenneth's sister beside her.

"We've all been out on the back porch," announced Mrs. Winship. "Do come in. We were waiting for you to join us in a little supper, although your sister here has been unkind enough to think you couldn't be persuaded to stay."

Kenneth glared at his sister as he entered the brilliantly lighted hall. "I'm afraid I can't," he began nervously. Then he paused, speech failing him as he caught sight of his disheveled self in the mirror. "I have been—"

"I told Mrs. Winship that you would have come with me, but that you were detained by a business appointment," quickly put in his sister, giving him a warning glance.

Just then Mrs. Winship's guest, in a dainty lingerie frock, came into the room. Kenneth quivered in his wet bathing suit as he was introduced to her.

"I really must apologize for my appearance," he started in again. "Now, don't say a word." Interrupted Mrs. Winship. "We know you young business men don't have time to do everything, and we're glad to have you just as you are. Why, how wet your head is!"

"Yes, I've been working with the machine," explained Kenneth glibly. "It was warm work and I feel as if I had been in a shower bath."

He cast a reproachful glance at his sister as he was led away to the supper table. There his physical discomfort interfered materially with his appetite. This fact, together with a violent fit of sneezing which seized him, called forth Mrs. Winship's solicitous inquiries as to his health.

After a rather strained period at the table Mrs. Winship suggested that they look over some views she had in the library.

In the confusion of rising Kenneth whispered to his sister: "Let's run for it!"

"I'm afraid we'll have to go," said she apologetically to their hostess. "Kenneth isn't feeling well."

"No, not exactly," corroborated Kenneth, sneezing again.

"It's too bad that Cora's brother isn't more robust," commented Mrs. Winship when the automobile departed with the callers.

"Robust!" cried Mrs. Winship's guest, with suppressed excitement. "Why, he isn't sick—he's crazy. Didn't you notice that he had no socks on?"

Made Him Mad.

"Life," said Dorothy Donnelly, gloomily, "ain't much—not in this weather! Since we are all so miserable, weep with me over the sorrows of little Elmer. Elmer had arranged to go to a Sunday school picnic. Jumping out of bed early, he ran to the window to see what the weather was like, and found the rain coming down in torrents. Stamping his foot angrily, he exclaimed, 'I'm going to be a heathen after this!'"—Young's Magazine.

How Dream Differs From Delirium.

If every dreamer, dreaming, had power of the tongue to describe his dream experiences as he slept, the story of the dream in detail naturally would suggest insanity in the sleeper. But the difference between the sleeping dream and the delirium of fever, for instance, is that at least fragments of the basest dreams may be recalled, while nothing of delirium remains in the mind.

Man's Transparency.

Man is never so thoroughly transparent to a woman as when he tries to be funny.

Commercial Executives Get Together

Officers of National Association of Commercial Executives: Woodworth Clum, Rochester, N. Y., president; George S. Lenhart, Atlantic City, vice president; Heber Knott, president Grand Rapids Board of Trade, who will deliver the address of welcome to the visiting executives; Clarence A. Cotton, secretary.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—The fifth annual meeting of the National Association of Commercial Executives, which is to be held here October 6 and 7, will be the most representative body of men interested in civic development ever brought together. Delegates will be present from Honolulu on the west to Portland, Me., on the east, and from Port Arthur on the north to Costa Rica on the south. The organization is for the purpose of a closer cooperation between cities and its membership is open to commercial executives over the United States and Canada.

So great has been the interest manifested outside of the United States that it is proposed to change the name at this meeting to International Association of National Association of Commercial Executives.

Much of the success of the organization is due to the energetic and tireless work of the secretary of the organization, Clarence A. Cotton, who has succeeded in broadening the membership to nearly double its former proportions and has taken the initiative in many ways.

President Woodworth Clum of Rochester will preside over this session. The program for the two days will include addresses by such well-known international figures as the Hon. John Barrett of the International Bureau of American Republics; Frank E. Morrison of Success Magazine; Hon. Charles W. Garfield, member of the House.

In a New York public school one of the teachers has four pupils whose names are the same as her own, and the principal and the janitor get each other's mail for the same reason. Another singular thing in this line occurred not long ago on the East side, where the clergyman and the man and woman whom he married had the same name.

Little Neighborliness There.

New York is a big city. A lady who has not lived there long was invited to a luncheon given by an old friend who came from the same town several years ago. The new guest met unexpectedly at the luncheon seven of her sex, all of whom lived within a few blocks of her residence, and all of whom had lived in the town from which she came.

Conscience in Names.

About everybody is satisfied and enthusiastic after the great three days' display of "Made in Janesville" products. Satisfied because the weather was ideal and tremendous crowds were out every day and every night. Enthusiastic because that real "booster" spirit was uncoiled and given a chance to run riot.

The whole affair just made that good old slogan of ours, "You'll Succeed in Janesville," stronger than ever, and we believe that every man on the registry list is for Janesville first, last and all the time now.

There is talk of a mid-winter fair—do you want it? "You'll Succeed in Janesville"—we can have it.

Janesville has a monstrous, solid, going manufacturing institution offered her. A factory that will pay out $60,000 per month in pay-rolls. Do you want it? Do you want to see this city grow? Do you want to see property values actually double? Do you want to see thousands and thousands of outside capital come to Janesville for investments? Do you want to see our own factories grow bigger and more prosperous? Do you want to share in all this possible prosperity? Do you want to see Janesville the second city in Wisconsin?

Dr. F. T. Richards,
will be out of the city until OCTOBER 8TH.

CENTER AVENUE CASE ON TRIAL

INVOLVES NEARLY ALL OF THE CITY OFFICIALS.

BADGER GOT A JUDGMENT

Late Yesterday Afternoon for $107.50 for Services on Board of Review
—Milton Charivari Shooting Case.

Before Judge Griffin in circuit court
this morning was commenced the trial of the action brought by C. M. & St.
P. Yardsmaster John J. Kelly, a resident on Chatham street in the Fifth ward, against Mayor Charles, all of the aldermen, city treasurer, city clerk, and street commissioner, to compel the return to the ward exchequer of all monies expended for labor and material in the so-called "repair work" on Center avenue (amounting to $500 according to claimant's information); to prevent the payment from the ward fund of additional outstanding obligations (totaling $1,500);
and to perpetually enjoin the defendants from continuing the work.

Mr. Kelly is represented by Attorneys Charles Phoro and John Can-ningham; Aldermen J. J. Dulin and J.
E. Donahoe of the Fifth ward by Attorney Thomas S. Nolan; Mayor Charles and the eight other aldermen by M. G.
Jeffrie and William Smith; and the city by City Attorney H. L. Maxwell.
The complaint on which the action was founded alleged that the changing of the grade of Center avenue, the laying of cement curb and gutter, the laying of crushed stone on a plant alleged to be illegally conducted by the city at a loss, the issuing and signing of orders for the work, and every other act with reference thereto was contrary to law.

It is probable that the court will be occupied with the case all this afternoon, all day tomorrow, and perhaps longer. Witnesses examined this morning were: John J. Kelly, B. H.
Baldwin, Mayor Charles, Conductor
Brennan, and John P. Cullen who, on August 29, just five days before Court Commencement, Mr. P. Richardson, at the behest of Mr. Kelly, issued a temporary injunction restraining further operations on the highway in question, lodged a restraining writ with Mayor Charles against the work. Mr. Cullen took measurements of the depth of the crushed stone and quarry strip-pings laid on the 48-foot highway and this morning testified at length regarding his observations.

Badger Secured Judgment.
Former City Clerk Arthur E.
Badger, who was restrained during his term of office by an injunction issued on complaint of the Recorder Printing company, from collecting extra compensation for services as a member of the board of review and who subsequently brought suit to recover $107.50 which was thus withheld, was resolved judgment for the full amount late yesterday afternoon. Attorney Charles W. Reeder, who represented the plaintiff, cited a supreme court decision on an Oklahoma case which was claimed to be identical. Former Mayor Hutchinson some time ago recovered the amount withheld from him on the same ground. City Attorney Maxfield appeared for the municipality.

Charivari Suit.
George Palmer of Milton has commenced a suit to recover $5,000 from Carroll L. Smith, residing near Milton junction, injury having been sustained as the outcome of a charivari on Smith when he was married, the 23rd day of June. The bridegroom is alleged, because angered at the demonstration and fired into the crowd. Attorneys J. J. Cunningham and J. J.
McMahon appear for the plaintiff and Attorney Charles Phoro for the defendant. The trial has been set for Monday next.

Attention A. O. H.
A meeting will be held at 7:30 Wednesday evening in the lodge room. A social dance will follow the meeting.
Members and friends are cordially invited.

SECURED EVIDENCE FOR FURCR'S TRIAL

Measurements Made at Railroad Yards of Distance From Italian to Alleged Victim.

District Attorney John L. Fisher,
Edward Miller, the man whom Giuseppe Furcr is alleged to have shot with intent to kill, and the witnesses in the case, Roy DuSne of Milwaukee, Geo.
Road, Elmer Schumacher, and Walter and Frank Schumacher, visited the scene of the shooting at the South Janesville railroad yards yesterday afternoon, and measurements were also taken of the distance of the witnesses from the scene of the alleged crime.

At the hearing yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, Furcr was bound over for trial on October 15. Bonds were fixed at $500, which the prisoner was unable to furnish.

FIND BALL PLAYER BY ADVERTISEMENT

Altizer, Who Played Here on Sunday,
Has Gone to Join the "Reds"
at Cincinnati.

While Dave Altizer, a former White Sox player, was adding the local team to their victory over Beloit, Sunday, wires were being kept hot by Manager
 Clark Griffith of the Cincinnati "Reds" in an effort to locate him. Being unsuccessful in this, Manager Griffith wired Jimmy Callahan, his old associate on "cubs" and "White Sox," to insert an advertisement in the columns of one of the Chicago papers. A personal was inserted in the "Sun" to locate to classmate which brought results to Manager Griffith as well as to the baseball star.

Altizer was located out of bed early Monday morning. He had been out of the game of Sunday by an unknown friend, who had read the notice. Callahn was at once informed of the whereabouts of Altizer and wired Griffith accordingly. It was short time then to wire "Dave" to come to Cincinnati at once in readiness for Tuesday's game. Altizer left for Cincinnati late yesterday afternoon and will take the place of Bescher who was injured in New York. He will no doubt play in the post-season series between Cincinnati and Cleveland.

Wisconsin Rubber Company Decides to Accept Offer of Millions for Their Property.

Janesville stockholders of the Wisconsin Rubber company will be interested to learn that the majority of the stockholders of the company have decided to accept the offer of $3,200,000 for their four thousand acre rubber plantation located in Mexico, made by a London syndicate. At that price, it is figured out by the company, each member received $800 net per full paid share, or 25c per cent on his investment, in addition to 49 per cent at-ready paid in dividends.

Officers of the company claim that they do not know who intends buying the plantation as the deal was made through a New York attorney.

An offer of $500 per share some time ago was not considered. The company was organized in 1901 with a capital stock of $1,200,000, divided into shares of $200 each.

The officers of the company are all Madison men. Rasmus B. Anderson, president; Dr. Charles H. Hall, vice president; S. W. Merriell, secretary and general manager; E. C. Hudson, treasurer.

CHARLES C. CARR PASSED AWAY TODAY

After a Long Illness With Form of Locomotor Ataxia—A Resident of Janesville Since 1887.

Charles C. Carr, a resident of Janesville since 1887, and a man who deserved and held the high regard of all who knew him, died at his home, 829 Milwaukee avenue, shortly after nine o'clock this morning. He fell from a ladder while painting two years ago and sustained injuries in the region of the spine which are supposed to have brought on a form of locomotor ataxia which had made him an invalid during the past two months.

The deceased was born in Cananda-gua, Ontario county, New York, Feb.
15, 1850. In the autumn of 1855 he moved with his father's family to St.
Marie, Green county, Wisconsin, where he grew to manhood. In July, 1875, his father and his eldest brother returned from service in the Union army and in August of the same year
the family moved to this earth.

Mr. Carr was married in 1876 to Miss Fiddola Wheeler and the couple settled on a farm he had purchased near Grand Meadow, Moose county, Minn.
Their only child, a son, was born to him while residing here. In the spring of 1887 the family came to Janesville and Mr. Carr was for a number of years in the employ of a local grocery firm.

Besides the widow and son, Charles Carr, a brother, C. S. Carr, who resides at Blue Earth, Minn., is left to mourn his loss. Funeral services will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, the Rev. T. D. Williams officiating.

THE ELECTRICAL WORLD

BETTER THAN TABLE CANDLES

Prettily Arranged Device for Holding Electric Lights—Also Serves as Flower Vase.

Every woman has realized for some time past that the use of the candle as a table decoration was attended by danger and other shortcomings, and a substitute has been eagerly sought. The solution of the problem has not been found in electricity for the reason that lamps of this character lacked the feature of portability and their use also required the presence of wires piercing the cloths and tables. A New York man has recently designed a piece of table decoration which takes the place of candles on the dining room table in the home as well as the hotel and cafe.

The device is a pretty design embracing a silver receptacle capable of holding a single storage cell. The battery stores sufficient energy to keep the lamp aglow for 14 hours and the illumination emanates from three tungsten lamps supplied with switch for controlling them. Mating neatly over the stand is a shallow glass dish containing cut flowers and water. The former are supported by a cut glass disk, with numerous holes into which the flower stems, etc., project. The lamp thus serves as a flower vase as well, and the effect of the light passing through the glass and water and playing around the flowers and leaves is very pretty indeed.

SUPPORT FOR HEATED IRONS

Electrical Device so Arranged That Current is Turned on When Object is in Holder.

A novel support has recently been invented for electrically heated flatirons, says Scientific American. It is so arranged that the current is turned on only when the iron is on the support. The support consists of a metallic base provided with legs of insulating material and upon which is mounted, in inclined position, a plate of slate. On this the flatiron is adapted to be supported, so that the head of the flatiron will slide down and bear against a block of insulating material at the rear of the base. In this block are two sockets, provided with metallic clips forming the terminals of an electric current. The flatiron, which is provided with the usual heating coils, has two terminal pins near the heel. These are adapted to engage the clips when the iron is in position on the slate. This completes the circuit through the coils and serves to heat the iron. As soon as the iron is removed from the stove the circuit is broken, and there is no waste of current or dangerous overheating liable to cause a fire.

To Make Windows Opaque. If you want to shut off the view from any window you can do it very cheaply by dissolving in a little hot water as much Epsom salts as the water will absorb. Paint over the window while hot, and when dry you will have a very good imitation of ground glass.

Grass for Matches. A match manufacturer in India has discovered that he can use a coarse, stiff grass that grows in that country instead of wood for matches.

"SPY MANIA" BREEDS TROUBLE BETWEEN ENGLAND AND GERMANY.

Lieutenant Helm, alleged by the English to be a German spy, Fort Widley, of which it is said he was making sketches when arrested.

London, Eng.—The war scare has again been aroused in England and 1910 has been prophesied as the time when England and Germany will actually enter into open conflict. It is thought that at the next session of parliament increased appropriations for navy and army will be made on a scale never before dreamed of. At the same time it is well known Germany is spending millions each year in strengthening her fortifications, enlarging her army and building more battleships.

Increased attention has been drawn to it by the recent outbreak of "spy mania," which had its source in the arrest in Germany of a couple of Englishmen who were snapping cameras around the new German fortifications at Hook, while England played her card by taking into custody Lieutenant Helm, an alleged German spy, supposed to be making sketches of Fort Widley, at Portsmouth.

SUCCESS OF CHICAGO TO NEW YORK AIRSHIP FLIGHT ASSURED.

Map showing one of the courses which seems to be most popular with contestants who have looked the ground over. Three of the principal contestants in the longest flight ever attempted by man.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS. Time—October 8 to October 15, 1910. Place—Chicago to New York. Distance by Railroad—900 miles. Distance, straight line—800 miles. Contestants—Ten. Stops Allowed—As many as necessary.

Prize for first aviator negotiating the distance—$25,000, offered by New York Times and Chicago Evening Post. Prize—$4,000 in addition, offered by Clifford B. Harmon. Prize—$1,000 for aviator reaching a point 500 miles east of Chicago within 50 hours, offered by Clifford B. Harmon.

Chicago, Ill.—On October 8, weather permitting, ten American and foreign aviators will start on the race to New York City, a distance of approximately 1,000 miles, to be negotiated as soon as possible. Prior to the contest the aviators will take part in contest and exhibition flights to demonstrate their right to try for the world's long distance prize, which amounts to $25,000. The race will be the greatest aeronautical event in the world's history.

The fliers who will compete in the race are actively preparing for the long contest. Several airplanes and monoplanes will be used. They are expected to develop between fifty and sixty miles an hour. Glen H. Curtiss has entered one of his machines, but is unprepared at the present time to state definitely that he will fly himself, although he will take part in the preliminary race in Chicago. J. A. D. McCurdy, Eugene A. Ely, Charles Foster Willard, and Augustus Post will fly in Curtiss' airplane. Ted Schriber is building a new machine at the Hempstead aviation grounds. He has made a number of successful flights at Mineola.

James Rodley is an Englishman who is due to arrive in New York from England the latter part of this week. He will use a Blériot machine in the race. Joe Seymour, the former automobile driver, is practicing at Mineola in a machine specially constructed for the contest. Capt. Thomas A. Baldwin is the veteran of the outrun, and his recent flight over the Mississippi river near St. Louis places him in line with the best aviators in the country. He is at present acting as aid to Clifford B. Harmon in the elimination trials at Indianapolis for the international balloon championship.

William Green is engaged in the manufacture of aeroplanes at Rochester. He made an enviable record at Morris Park race track two years ago, when he got his machine to take up two, and even three, passengers.

The aeronautical work of Willard McCurdy and Ely, leaves no doubt as to their flight from Chicago to New York. In addition to being accomplished aviators they are expert mechanics, which is likely to prove of great value to them in the event of accidents during the flight. Augustus Post is a recent graduate from the amateur ranks.

Aviators throughout the world are watching with interest the outcome of the race. It promises to mark a new era in the science of aviation, and successfully demonstrate the utility of the heavier-than-air flying machines. The conditions of the aeroplane race have been sanctioned by the National Council of the Aero Club of America. The race will start on October 8, if the weather permits, and finish in New York City October 15. This will give the contestants ample time to participate in the international meet at Belmont Park, which begins October 22. The conditions call for at least three competitors to start, or the race will be called off. The start is to be made from Hawthorne Race Track, Chicago, after 10 a. m. and the finish must be within the city limits of New York. The start may be postponed from day to day because of bad weather, but not beyond October 15.

The Ticklemouse

—and his Sleepyland Adventures with Davy and Dorfy

By Roy Rutherford Bailey

The Stokers

BEFORE the merry mice came to the nursery last night, while Davy and Dorfy were sleeping soundly, there came a low, scratching noise outside the open window.

Then came the smell of coal smoke, clouds and clouds of it, curling up from the great black pipe just below the window. It filled the nursery with its inky wreaths and the twins began to cough.

Soon they woke, just as a big round head lifted itself into view. Gripped between the red lips was a pipe filled with glowing coal—and the face was the face of Old King Coal himself!

"Ah—Davy and Dorfy, the very same!" he chuckled as he clambered into the room and fixed his glaring eye on the twins. "And where are the two precious mice who helped you play that house-of-cards trick on me a few months back?"

The twins looked at each other and said nothing.

"Won't speak, eh?" roared the intruder. "Well, we'll see!" And he settled himself comfortably in a rocking chair to await the arrival of the mice. The twins longed to warn their friend, but they were helpless against this great King of Diamonds. They listened breathlessly as the clock struck twelve—and in pipped the mice!

In a twinkling, a few puffs of smoke had overcome Willy Wishinmouse and the dark night, and tossed like sacks of wheat on the deck of a great steamer. Soon the deckhands untied them, shoved them down into the boiler rooms of the vessel and set them to work.

"Work?" asked the Ticklemouse, with a glance at Dorfy. "You wouldn't ask a little body to shovel coal?"

"King" orders," snapped the mate. "And when King Coal says stoke, why, stoke it is. Fall to!"

Such work! And such a night! The sweat rolled off their foreheads and half blinded them, and their clothes were drenched in no time. The Ticklemouse contrived to get next to Dorfy and shoved most of her coal for her, but his paws were soon blistered and bleeding.

At last came a moment when their guards were caught napping. "Now!" whispered the Mouse, jumping, shoved in hand, through the hatch and into the sea. The others followed, each using his shovel as a little boat, which Willy wished so swiftly over the waves that it had no time to sink.

"After this, children," said the Ticklemouse, when they were safely home again, "let's get our folks to burn either gas or wood—no more stoker's life for your Uncle Tick!"

his cheery uncle, and the bluff old king had them tied paw and foot. Then he bound the twins likewise.

They were carried a long way through

Strokes Not Always Fatal.

Two doctors have independently arrived at the conclusion that most persons struck by lightning, and to all appearances dead, could be called to life by applying the method of artificial respiration in use for resuscitating the drowned. This method proved successful in the case of a man who was apparently killed at Berlin in 1891.

Eastern Atmosphere.

"I suppose there isn't a Turkish bath in connection with this hotel," quipped the very young grocery drummer, on his first trip to Newburg. "There ain't been any feller along sellin' them as yet," replied the landlord of the Eagle Hotel; "but I kin furnish ye with a Turkish towel, a Turkish rug, Turkish cigarettes, an' a turkish dinner on Sunday."

A Hint to Managers.

Miss Updodate, at last found an unengaged afternoon and went to the ball game. She entered the grand stand with her escort in a leisurely way and, after looking about her, glanced at the players at practice. "Why, what dreadful creatures!" she exclaimed. "They are wearing exactly the same cut of uniform as last year when I was here."

HE NEVER DONE THAT BEFORE.

Cough RemedyCosts Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually ends a deep-seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, chest pains, bronchitis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps and a cough.

This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in gualcol and all the natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada, that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equalled.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist.BUTTERMILK VS. SWEET MILK.

Buttermilk is preferable to sweet milk, especially for adults. Many cannot take sweet milk without serious results, who are much benefited by buttermilk. The large curds adapted to the four-stomach system of the calf, cause serious difficulty for the weak adult stomach, especially if the motor action be deficient, allowing the milk to remain in the stomach till it putrefies, causing serious auto-intoxication, evidenced by bilious headache, derangement of the liver, with jaundiced eyes. While milk furnishes every element of nutrition needed by the system, the milk diet, which is being indiscriminately recommended by some who evidently are not aware of the physiological objections to it or of the necessity of considering variations in temperament, is not adapted to all cases. In buttermilk the heavy curd curds are dissociated, and in artificially made buttermilk a "friendly germ" is developed, to the exclusion of others. Buttermilk can be made by using a tablet to be had at the drug store.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

I AM OVER thirty. All my girl chums are married. I do not think that I shall ever marry. I might as well make up my mind to that. But even if I am not going to marry, I am not going to be an old maid, not the sort kind. I have decided that, and I have also decided that the way to do it is to keep by with young life. Since I am to have no children of my own, I am going to try to be as interested in and as much with my girl friends' children as is possible.

That is the decision that a young woman whom I know made a year ago. And in that year it has actually so changed and sweetened her from the rather embittered and self-sufficient young person which she was then, that her acquaintances are continually saying to each other:

"What has come over Louise?" She has improved so, isn't it a splendid one?"

And that decision is the secret. Think of the people that have been affected by it.

There are Louise's friends who today enjoy her bright, jolly presence. Whereas a year ago they almost avoided her rather enigmatic and self-sufficient ways.

There are Louise's father and mother, who are delighted beyond words at having their daughter so much happier and more contented.

There are the half a dozen of her friends' children who have learned to call her "Aunt Louise," and to rush to the door to greet her whenever she comes to see them.

And best of all, there is Louise herself, who is replacing discontent and dreariness and unrest by contentment and peace and serenity.

I remember years ago hearing a very fine unmarried woman of forty-five or fifty say, as she looked at another woman's baby:

"That is the hardest thing in my life to me. I don't mind so much being called an old maid. I don't mind so much not being a wife, but the terrible thing is to think that I shall never be a mother—that no little boy or girl will ever say that dear word 'mother' to me."

It seems to me as if deep down in her heart every unmarried woman must have the same feeling, and I cannot think of anything finer than my friend's determination to be a mother by proxy, since she cannot be a real one.

I wonder if there are not some unmarried women among my readers who might make their own and their friends' lives sweeter by adopting that resolution.

MRS. POTTER PALMER—LIFE ENDANGERED BY BOMB THROWER.

Chicago, Ill.—The magnificent lake shore drive home of Mrs. Potter Palmer, in the first of cross-questioning at the police station he admitted, how well-known society leader herself, were the center of Chicago's most recent bomb throwing scare last week, how the Palmer mansion.

The bomb was filled with a pound and a half of smokeless nitro gun powder, sufficient to spread destruction over a wide area, and evidently was the work of a skilled bomb maker. It was carefully investigated. The first, the constructed of gas pipe 14 inches long Palmer household knew of the incident, and 2 inches in diameter, and the way was when a man appeared at the front door of the mansion with a 14-inch diameter bomb, and with his face professional, the police believe, cut and bleeding and his clothes torn.

In the relation of employer and employee the said strained relation is often apparent. In spite of our great and boasted democracy we have a deep ingrained deference to the "man who has made good"—the man who can fire men, as one young man put it, "is a big man!"

After all, he is just human. He has his fears and his joys just as you have. More success or money will not change you from what you are deep down. Neither has it changed him. He likes a certain deference. It is his due as a successful man, but he does not desire fear—if he is a decent fellow, and most men who succeed are that.

If in the relation between man and wife there never entered the element of fear, there would be more harmony than our present statistics show. The other day a woman lost her purse containing seventy-five cents. She tried to kill herself rather than face her husband's reproaches for her carelessness.

Was not that a terrible accusation against the attitude he has taken toward her?

Four? It is the honey-moon of childhood and of youth and the memory of manhood and womanhood. Do so honest with yourself that you have no hidden reasons for fear and then march forward with head up and shoulders broad against any and all misadventure. With the evangelist, "Fear No Evil." And fear neither foe nor friend. This is the road to success and to happiness.

"SPIRIT" LETTERS IN $200,000 SUIT.

Mrs. Marion Funk, granddaughter of Robert Thompson.

New York, N. Y.—A big black voice, Mrs. Thompson's lawyer, Frederick, in a letter from "Spiritland" was W. Sparks, declared that the "spirit" produced before Surrogate Ketchum in letters, purporting to come from Brooklyn, when the suit of Mrs. Mary Thompson's first wife, warning him to settle the $250,000 suit, was trumped up by an agent of the deceased. Robert Thompson's relatives just prior to his death, in a successful effort to have him cut off his young wife in his will.

One of the witnesses was Mrs. Marion Funk, granddaughter of Robert Thompson and a beneficiary under his existing will. Mrs. Funk is the wife of a nephew of Dr. Isaac Funk, who was a friend of Mr. Thompson. It was through her, as medium, that the spirit of the deceased wife purported to send her messages to her husband in this life.

The lawyer of Mrs. Thompson got an order for the production of the documents of a strongbox that had belonged to her husband. In this he was certain the new will would be found. It was not. But he found a diary kept by youthful Mrs. Funk. She recorded there the meaning results of her seances, and the plaintiff's lawyer became deeply interested in its contents, especially those that told of communications in the years 1907 and 1908.

These letters, the young widow asserts, given to Thompson about the time the will now being contested was drawn, is convincing evidence that he was influenced, leaving his property by the belief that his dead wife disapproved of her probable successor.

Mrs. Mabelle A. Thompson is a native of Brookline, Mass., and it was in the home of her parents there that the wedding took place. She had entered Thompson's employ in the Boston branch when she was only 17 years old. Her health was fragile and he sent her on many long vacations.

At the time of the marriage, it is said, Thompson's sons expressed approval of their father's choice. Four months after the ceremony Thompson died of pneumonia. The funeral took place at the family mansion at Brookline, and Thomas A. Edison was a pallbearer.

The late Mr. Thompson was a disciple of Mary Ann Seannell Pepper Vanderbilt, the spiritualistic sponsor of "Little Bright Eyes." After Mrs. Pepper was married to Edward Ward Vanderbilt, the latter's daughter brought suit to have a commission appointed for him.

CASTING FEAR.

(By MARY HUSSELL.)

In any career the straightforward plan is best. If you have a problem in your school career go straight to the teacher.

He is not a terrible creature. Suppose he is inclined to talk largely of the things he will do to those who break rules—he will really be friend every child he knows if he is appealed to for help. Just be honest with him. Show that you want his friend-ship. Show that you care for his opinion and advice and he will be glad to help you out of any difficulty.

I began with the school for there the problems of life begin. There are no greater ones to come. Each problem is all that you can endure at the time it comes into your life.

Later when in business make friends with those higher up by your desire to do right. If you really wish to be proficient—to learn all that there is to learn about the career you have chosen—there are always plenty of people who will give you valuable time and more valuable sympathy in your endeavors. Just be frank and honest and not afraid.

One of the greatest obstacles between teachers and pupils is the element of fear. The child gets the idea that the teacher is an enemy rather than a friend. He fears to be his real self. The teacher never knows him. This is a fault which is due to each of the parties. The teacher lacks the ability to make friends without losing dignity. The child cannot forget the power which is invested in the teacher.

In the relation of employer and employee the said strained relation is often apparent. In spite of our great and boasted democracy we have a deep ingrained deference to the "man who has made good"—the man who can fire men, as one young man put it, "is a big man!"

One of our readers tells how she obtained a marvelous growth of new hair by the use of a simple home remedy after hair specialists and tonics had failed.

I had what most people would call a beautiful head of golden hair. I pulled it most highly, as I considered it my chief attraction. Suddenly I began to loose it very rapidly and at times I had intense itching of the scalp. Physicians and hair specialists said my case was one of dandruff, but I refused to believe that. On the contrary, my hair seemed to come out faster than I could count it. I was now left with a bald spot on the crown of my head. I was now left with a bald spot on the crown of my head. A LUNCHEON GOWN.

We show today a lovely gown suitable for luncheons or bridge parties. One's favorite or most becoming color may be employed in its construction. The model, however, was made from a beautiful shade of blue satin messaline. The sketch shows the unique arrangement of skirt just where it is gathered on each side, the fullness held in place at foot under a bow of self-tinted velvet ribbon.

A flat collar and turned cuffs are of finest cream batiste embroidery, the joining of former covered by a bow of velvet ribbon. Velvet-covered buttons and loops decorate the front from neck to end of hip yoke.

A GOOD COUGH CURE.

Do you remember the good old cough cure mother used to have? It didn't taste like cherry pie but it did cure a cough in a hurry. Mr. Plonk, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, makes our cough balsam by percolation direct from the roots, bark and balsams of wild cherry, bloodroot, lobelia, white pine bark. Thereby obtaining the full medicinal virtue and strength of each drug, making it into a syrup we call Badger Cough Balsam. It is made after an old prescription which is today the best cure for any cough, bronchitis or lung trouble, hoarseness and sore throat. It cures by soothing the inflamed membrane of the lungs, not by dosing the system with morphia and chloroform as do the modern patent cough remedies, deadening the nervous system, stupefying the lungs into retaining the mucus, thereby bringing on possible pneumonia and pleurisy. Badger Cough Balsam is a trustworthy expectorant; it loosens up and expels the phlegm. Get a bottle today for yourself or the children. It's safe to use. 25c. ## Teeth Extracted Without Pain

The Greatest Invention of the age for suffering humanity. No danger from colds, no soreness of gums, no physical debility thereafter.

I have thousands of families throughout the West that would not go to any other dentist for their extracting. I charge very much less than the big Dental Specialists of the cities, and I extract more teeth than any single Specialist in the United States, all for the very valid reason that I cover a large territory (three States), using methods that are PAINLESS, QUICK AND SAFE, backed up by nearly twenty years successful specialism.

USES BIG ENGINE TO DO ROAD WORK

M. L. O'NEIL AND CREW OF MEN WORKING ON MIDDLE ROAD IN JOHNSTOWN.

DOES TWO MILES AT ONCE

Hauls Gravel From Some Distance and Rolls and Works Road With His Big Traction Engine.

Activity on road building throughout the county is being demonstrated by the unusual "upset" conditions of the roads leading into Jansville. The haste to complete the improvements before the fall rains and frost sets in is responsible for this chaotic condition of what are usually good roads for heavy and pleasure drivers and with good weather this month they will be completed.

On what is known as the middle Johnstown road, that comes in on Court street, two miles of gravel roadway is being built. The work has been let by contract to M. L. O'Neil, who has built several large strips of road throughout the county in the past two years. The improved road starts at the Whitewater-de-aven road and extends towards Jansville for two miles. At present only the grading and hauling of the gravel has been finished but the rolling and balling up the road bed proper will come within the next two weeks.

O'Neil has opened a gravel pit on a farm adjacent to the work and has established a permanent camp there. He is hauling one hundred and fifty yards of gravel a day with his big traction engine, which in addition keeps at work rolling and grading. The road proper has been widened and when completed will be in excellent shape. New bridges have been put in over the drainage culverts.

In all some twenty-five miles of road will be completed this summer and fall if the weather holds good this month. The majority of this work is in the shape of stone roads. At present the town of Turtle is laying 25 rods of good stone road, Newark has thirty rods of stone road in process of construction and Magnolia fifty rods. Clinton and Plymouth do their own road building under direction of their town boards. In fact all but three of the twenty counties have done road work this summer, the three in question are Lima, La Prairie and Spring Valley.

ANXIOUS OVER CHOLERA PEST.

Apprehension So Great Advisory Board Is Summoned to Washington.

Washington, Oct. 4.—How gravely the public health and marine hospital service regards the possibility of the invasion of cholera from the infected sections of Europe became known when the advisory public health board was called to meet in Washington October 10.

Another evidence of the alarm with which the situation is viewed came to light when the service decided to double its officers at every port from which steamships sail or at which immigrants gather in Italy, Germany or Russia, due to the increasing death rate in Russia and the spread of the scourge into Italy and Germany.

An outbreak of yellow fever at Campeche, Mexico, with two deaths, and of cholera at Bardonia, Italy, with four cases discovered and one death, were reported to the state department.

THREE BOHOLDOYS ARE SLAIN.

Mortar Box Falls on Them and Crushes Out Their Lives.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—While standing interestedly watching the death struggle of an old horse in a yard, three boys, pupils of the Marquette school, met death themselves when a large steel mortar box, weighing more than a ton, toppled over and crushed out their lives.

The victims were Joseph Hummel, ten years old; Stephen Casagrove, eight years old, and Edwin Brown, seven years old.

Henry J. Brown, father of one of the boys who stood directly in the path-way of the falling box, shouted a warning.

Wisconsin Congregational Meeting.

Rhinelander, Wis., Oct. 4.—The Wisconsin Congregational association began its 72nd annual meeting in this city today with a business session, after which addresses were made by Rev. A. O. Stevens of Elk-horn, Rev. W. C. A. Waller of Burlington and others. An elaborate program covering three days has been prepared, closing with a banquet of the Wisconsin Congregational Brotherhood.

THEATRE

Tonight at the Myers Theatre 815, Salvatore Cirillo and his band will render an excellent program of both popular and classical music. The band of 35 Italian artists should prove a treat for Jansville, as they are just off the Lyceum circuit of the east where they have been a very great success. Sig. Cirillo is one of those rare Italian artists who understand music in its truest sense and his recent success has won world fame. The engagement is for a twelve night afternoon and evening program.

Muscle lovers will appreciate this opportunity of hearing one of the highest class bands touring the country.

CHAMPION AUTOIST TO RETIRE.

George Robertson Declares He Has Driven His Last Machine Race.

New York, Oct. 4.—George Robertson, the recognized American automobile champion, with a brilliant record as a racer, surprised the automobile world by announcing his permanent retirement from the dangerous pastime.

"I will never again ride in a race," said Robertson, "but will take a position as agent for an automobile company."

Robertson was seriously injured while in practice for the Vanderbilt cup race and has just got out of the hospital.

START A "MUNICIPAL CHURCH."

Plan Is Suggested by Rev. Dr. Gladden of "Tainted Money" Fame.

Columbus, O., Oct. 4.—Twenty-four Columbus pastors have organized a "municipal church," the plan for which was presented by Dr. Washington Gladden, pastor of the First Congregational church and renowned for his condemnation of Rockefeller's tainted money.

The object of the municipal church, which is expected, will be organized also in other cities, is to set out in its constitution:

"To unite all churches and religious sects of the city in philanthropic and welfare work, to study social and industrial conditions of the city with a view of remedying the evils of poverty, sickness, vice and crime and to remove the cause thereof."

PRIZE PIG IN CAVALIERI CASE.

Chandler's Brother Exhibits Pet He Has Named "Prince Dolgorouki."

Richmond, Va., Oct. 4.—John Armstrong Chandler (once Chandler), author of "Who's Lonesome Now?" has again come into the limelight by entering a prize pig at the Virginia state fair here. In another burst of eccentric humor he has named the pig "Prince Dolgorouki," after the Russian who figured so prominently in Mrs. Anna Cavallieri Chandler's friend in the Chandler-Cavallieri anti-nuptial agreement dispute.

The pen containing the pig is covered with large lettered banners bearing the name of the Russian prince. It was the amusing feature of the big fair and crowds looked about it throughout the day.

FIFTY LOSE LIVES ON STEAMER.

Pacific Navigation Boat Chiriqui Sinks in Gulf of Panama.

Panama, Oct. 4.—News received here tells of an explosion which sank the Pacific Steam Navigation steamship Chiriqui three days ago in the vicinity of Point Jaracine, about eight miles distant from Panama. About fifty of the passengers and crew are unaccounted for, and it is supposed that they are lost.

The steamship left Panama September 27 bound south with about seventy persons aboard, including crew and passengers.

BANK MEN OPEN CONVENTION.

Thirty-Sixth Annual Meeting of American Association Is Begun.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 4.—The Thirty-sixth annual convention of the American Bankers' association began here today and it followed all former conventions held by that body. Special trains have brought members from New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, New Orleans and St. Louis. Yesterday was devoted to general registration for the association, trust company, savings bank and clearing house sections and the organization of secretaries, etc., and to special meetings of committees.

President Lewis F. Pearson of New York called the convention proper to order this morning, and James N. Gillett, governor of California; George Alexander, mayor of Los Angeles, and W. H. Holliday, president of the Los Angeles Clearing House association delivered addresses of welcome. Reports of various committees were received and general business was transacted during the morning and the early part of the afternoon. Practical banking questions were discussed until afternoon adjournment. In the evening there will be grand reception and ball at the Shrine auditorium.

HUMAN EMBRYO BY CHEMISTRY.

Remarkable Feat Accredited to Professor Herrera, Mexican Scientist.

Monterrey, Oct. 4.—The Mexican consul at Trieste reports that Professor Herrera, a Mexican scientist, has succeeded in forming a human embryo by chemical combination.

Majority Came to United States.

During the last half-century the United States has received 66 per cent of the emigration from the British Isles.

One May Overcome

constipation permanently by proper personal cooperation with the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, when required. The forming of regular habits is most important and while endeavoring to form them the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is most valuable, as it is the only laxative which acts without disturbing the natural functions and without debilitating and it is the one laxative which leaves the internal organs in a naturally healthy condition, thereby really aiding one in that way. To get its beneficial effects, buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is never changed by the well-informed with medicines which make extravagant and unfounded claims to cure habitual constipation without personal cooperation.

When Colds First Come

That's the time to strike them, when they first come. Strike them hard. Master them completely. No delay, no trifling, no foolishness. Hit your cold hard right from the start. This is the way: a hot footbath, some hot drink, and Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The cough goes, the inflamed throat membranes are healed. Show these statements to your doctor. Ask him if every word we say here is not true. Then follow his advice. He knows.

J. C. AYER COMPANY, Lowell, Mass.

Robust health is a great safeguard against attacks of throat and lung troubles, but constipation will destroy the best of health. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills.

Young Man! Buy a Good Watch!

Take the advice of successful men who have carried the same watch for years, and who say that a good watch begets habits of punctuality and regularity, that it requires little attention and repair, and is always dependable.

It's foolish to waste money on a cheap watch now, thinking you will buy a good watch "some day." A reliable watch is a fortunate investment, which pays well all through life.

Elgin Watch

G. M. WHEELER MODEL
12 Size

Here is a high-grade watch at a medium price—a watch that is accurate, strong and handsome—that will be a punctual life companion. In fact, it's the best medium priced watch we have ever made. You'll be delighted with it. A thin model, in a variety of stylish cases, built particularly for young men, and older men of indoor occupation.

Go look it over to-day at the nearest jeweler's! Ask him to show you the 17 Jewels, which protect the pivot from wear, the Compensating Balance, which automatically adjusts to temperature changes, the Micrometric Regulator, which can't be accidentally moved. They're mighty interesting—and mighty important, too! Every watch is cased and regulated at the factory.

Price of Movement Only, $17.

In Filled Gold Cases, $30 and up. In Solid Gold Cases, $50 and up.

Every man and woman should own an Elgin Watch. There are many models, priced according to the case and the works, and all fully guaranteed. Jeweler everywhere will sell them.

ELGIN NATIONAL WATCH CO., Elgin, Illinois.

What Others Are Doing

Manufacturers of all sorts are rapidly adopting electric drive for their factories. There are numerous reasons why steam drive with its long lines of shafts and belts is being changed to individual motor drive without shafts or counter shafts.

Usually the change is due to an increase in the amount of work which their machines will turn out when motor driven. Sometimes it is an improvement in the quality of their products.

Sometimes it is a decrease in the cost of power. As power in many cases is but a very small per cent of the total cost of the finished product, this question is not of the utmost importance.

But the increase in quantity and quality of the manufactured product is of first importance.

Will you give our representative a few moments of your time to present some facts? Telephone

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, October 4, 1870.—Mr. Wm. Booth has just completed in dwelling house on Milton avenue.

Young men are so scarce in this city that the girls have given up the idea of having two strings to their bow. If they get one about on the string they feel perfectly satisfied.

Mr. E. P. Barker, of Hanover, had his right hand crushed by the cylinder of a threshing machine this morning. It is possible that the hand may be saved.

Marshall Cutts is after those saloon keepers who persist in selling liquor on Sunday. It is to be hoped he will make them squint, for they merit the severest penalty which can be inflicted by the law they violate.

The individual who was trying to keep himself warm by sitting on a big lump of coal, in front of Laphin's block, today, has concluded that the experiment will prove more successful during the dog days. He thinks too, that a soft coal would make a more comfortable seat for a man of tender feelings.

The construction of an arch supported by carved pillars, over the entrance to the Court Street M. E. Church, is an improvement in the appearance of the front of that edifice.

The Chicago & Northwestern railroad company will commence the construction of an iron bridge over Rock river, at the lower crossing in this city, in about two weeks. It is expected that the cost of the structure will be in the neighborhood of $100,000. Mr. John Watson, of this city, has the contract for building the abutments on which the bridge is to rest. Mr. Watson has been engaged on work of this nature for some time past, employing most of his time for the benefit of the Chicago & Northwestern Company. He superintended the construction of the bridge over Turtle Creek, between miles south of Chicago, which is one of the finest specimens of stone work on the line of that road; being built at an expense of about $200,000.

The Milwaukee chief of police has succeeded in recovering the valuable gold watch belonging to Dr. C. L. Martin, which was taken from him last week by a pickpocket, while on the cars between Milwaukee and the state fair grounds. The doctor is fortunate in thus obtaining that which was lost.

Johnston, Oct. 3.—Mrs. E. J. Verbaek is in Janesville visiting this week.

Mrs. F. A. McKelips is enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. Jimmie, from Payson.

Among those to attend the Jefferson Co. fair on Friday were W. B. Austin and Miss Helen.

John Pickett is building a new summer kitchen onto his brick house on his farm.

Wm. Pratt visited relatives at Madison and took in the fair.

Lima, Oct. 3.—Mr. Rees and Earl spent Saturday in Janesville.

The two weeks of revival meetings in the M. E. church which were to close on Sunday, were continued until Wednesday evening.

Mrs. John Collins spent last week with relatives in Ft. Atkinson and attended the Jefferson County fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grant entertained a house full of relatives from Palmyra on Sunday.

Liquid Cures Eczema Where Salves Fail.

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't impure the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczema, psoriasis and other skin diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.
